THE YEAR OF SUPREME 68

FIRST CARBON SUNREEF 74 DIANA • THE DIVINE ATHENA • DESTINATION BAHAMAS

IN THIS ISSUE:

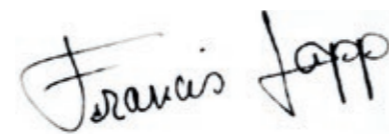

Dear Readers,

I wish you and your loved ones a bright New Year of health and success. I would also like to express my sincere gratitude for your support over the last year.

Throughout 2016, we have participated in the industry's most important marine shows worldwide, hosted luxury lifestyle events like the Pomorskie Rendez Vous, started the construction process of a spectacular 88ft Double Deck sailing superyacht to be launched in 2017, but most importantly we introduced a game-changing range of motor and sailing leisure catamarans – the Sunreef Supreme 68 – a concept awarded at the World Yachts Trophies gala in Cannes. One of the Sunreef Yachts key focuses last year was the development of the company's brokerage and dealership network. A strategy to be continued in 2017. This evolution of our sales channels will allow us to reach out to even more customers around the world and respond to the needs of all those looking for a innovative, customized alternative to monohull yachts. This year we will not only launch many new catamarans but we will also concentrate on new concepts, including multihulls under 60ft and performance-oriented boats. I encourage you to keep abreast of the company's news, visit our website, read the Sunreef News Magazine, follow our social media channels, get in touch with our sales representatives or join us at the upcoming boat shows around the world. Keep sailing with us!

Yours sincerely,

Francis Lapp

SUNREEF SUPREME 68

AWARDED

THE WORLD YACHTS TROPHIES 2016

HELD DURING THE CANNES YACHTING FESTIVAL 2016, THE WORLD YACHTS TROPHIES GALA WAS A NIGHT OF CELEBRATION FOR THE SUNREEF YACHTS SHIPYARD SPECIALIZING IN CUSTOM DESIGNING AND MANUFACTURING OF CATAMARANS WITH OVER 60FT IN LENGTH. THE COMPANY'S LATEST PROJECT – THE SUNREEF SUPREME 68 – WAS AWARDED FOR HER LAYOUT IN THE CATEGORY OF YACHTS RANGING BETWEEN 15 AND 24M IN LENGTH.

The night of the World Yachts Trophies

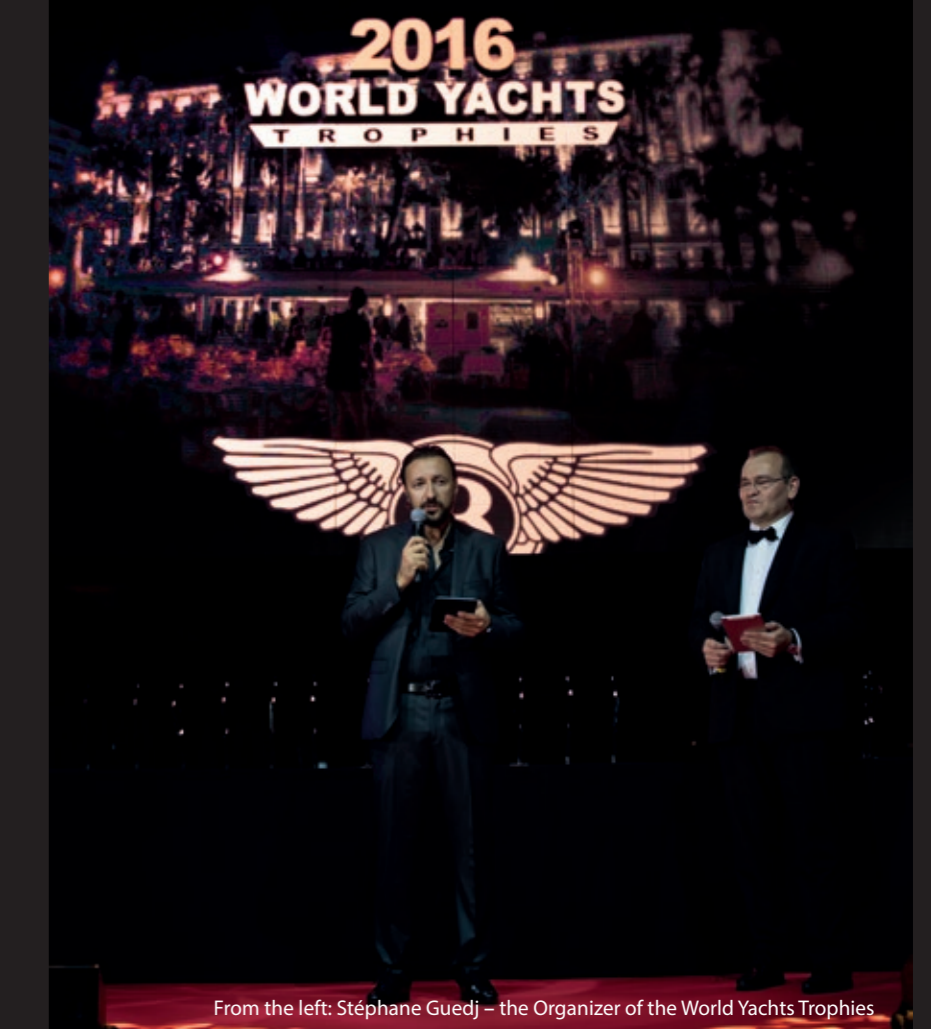

Organized by the Yachts France Magazine, the World Yachts Trophies reward the best of the latest luxury boating industry innovations. Industry professionals, yacht owners and shipyard executives have been participating in this event for more than 10 years.

Introduced in 2016, the revolutionary concept of the power and sailing multihulls – the Sunreef Supreme 68 – revisits the way catamarans have been so far designed. With 300m² of living space, the Sunreef Supreme 68 offers the surface of a superyacht on a unit below 24m. A new radical shape of the superstructure allows to keep the saloon and exterior deck on the same level.

As a result, the Sunreef Supreme boasts an enormous main room surrounded with floor to ceiling glass – a smooth, seamless space opening onto the cockpit and giving direct access to the deck through folding doors on both sides of the yacht. The model comprises additionally an aft garage with a door creating a beach platform after opening. All the Sunreef Supreme 68 are fully personalized in terms of interior layout, finishing and technical equipment. Up till now the company sold 7 units of this model with 3 launches completed, including one power and two sailing yachts.

DISCOVER ATHENA THE SUPREME 68 POWER HITS THE WATER!

Sunreef Supreme 68 Power Athena on the Motława River in Gdansk, Poland

FOLLOWING THE SUCCESS OF THE FIRST TWO 68FT SAILYACHTS IN THE SUNREEF SUPREME RANGE, THE SHIPYARD PRESENTS THE POWERYACHT VERSION OF THIS GAME CHANGING CONCEPT – THE SUNREEF SUPREME 68 ATHENA.

Athena's vast saloon

Long awaited and carefully crafted in every detail at the company's shipyard in Gdansk, Poland, luxury power catamaran Athena, named after the Greek goddess of wisdom, is a continuation of the Sunreef Supreme philosophy, focusing on innovative solutions and luxury lifestyle onboard.

Athena is a private 21m motor unit with genuine superyacht features and a simply unbelievable living space equaling 300m². Her radical superstructure is a breath of fresh air to yacht interior design. Surrounded with floor to ceiling glass, the yacht's immense saloon opens onto the cockpit and passageways.

The 65m² interior deck is vast enough to place a beamy master cabin in the bow with direct access to the front terrace and its large relaxing area with a jacuzzi.

The dumbwaiter system serves the saloon and flybridge

Her interiors and layout are fully customized and created by the Sunreef Yachts in-house Design Office. Athena reflects the personality and passion of her Owner for high-end products.

This white-hulled beauty is also equipped with an aft garage which is implemented on all of the Sunreef Supreme units. This solution is a truly revolutionary feature on a catamaran under 70 feet. Her flybridge, the company's trade mark, is topped with an elegant bimini and features a navigation station, a bar, a dining table and mattresses.

The yacht features a powerful Volvo IPS 1050 system for a maximum of maneuverability and optimized performance. During technical tests and sea trials in difficult weather conditions, the yacht reached an impressive 23 knots of speed.

An additional joystick and aft cameras are installed to ease the mooring in crowded marinas. With 7000L of fuel capacity, Athena enjoys all the autonomy she needs to cross the Atlantic.

Shortly after Athena's launch and tests, the company completed the construction of the second Sunreef Supreme poweryacht. ■

SUNREEF YACHTS LAUNCHES THE FIRST CARBON SUNREEF 74

AFTER SPECTACULAR LAUNCHES OF FIVE FULLY CUSTOMIZED UNITS FROM THE SUNREEF 74 LINE, SUNREEF YACHTS IS PROUD TO INTRODUCE THE MOST TECHNICALLY ADVANCED EDITION OF THIS MODEL. WITH CARBON BODYWORK ELEMENTS AND CUTTING EDGE RIG, THE YACHT NAMED DIANA IS A STATELY SAIL CATAMARAN OFFERING ALL THE LUXURY AND COMFORT ONE COULD WISH FOR, WITHOUT COMPROMISING THE PERFORMANCE.

A STORY OF MEMORY AND AMBITION
A STORY OF MEMORY AND AMBITION

Sunreef Yachts is famous for designing and manufacturing bespoke multihulls with over 60ft in length. Every launch tells a different captivating story. When a new catamaran sees the day at the company's shipyard, it always expresses a specific vision and her Owner's personality. Diana was ordered by a retired Californian businessman – Dr George Lopez – founder of a billion dollar company, successful with many significant medical inventions.

When Dr Lopez started to think about switching from his 62ft monohull to a bigger yacht, he engaged in numerous discussions with his family members and Ian McIntosh – skipper sailing with the Lopez family since the 90's. “As the family grew up, the limitations of a 62ft monohull became increasingly apparent and on every trip, the family conversations turned to the topic of a bigger yacht. Initially we were focused on monohulls in the 120 feet range, but Doc (Doctor Lopez) insisted that he wished to stay with a shallow draft yacht capable of being managed by a small crew, so we started talking seriously about building a catamaran. (...) I even remember saying in a meeting years ago that “it would be even better if it had a fly-bridge.” A short search on the Internet brought me to the realization that a gentleman by the name of Francis Lapp had explored the exact same concept and was in fact building fly-bridge catamarans in Gdansk, Poland. Thus started our relationship with Sunreef Yachts. We were patient, waiting out the 70 series, until Sunreef designed a yacht that combined true sailing performance with the comfortable living conditions that catamarans are renowned for,” recalls Ian McIntosh, who later managed the Diana project on the Owner's behalf.

Dr Lopez decided to name the yacht Diana in memory of his late wife, who was a doctor of Polish descent and passed away in 2006. With the ambition to build a safe and seaworthy home away from home for his family to pursue adventures around the world, he embarked on a unique catamaran build project.

CARBON FIBER – A KEY TO BALANCE LUXURY AND PERFORMANCE

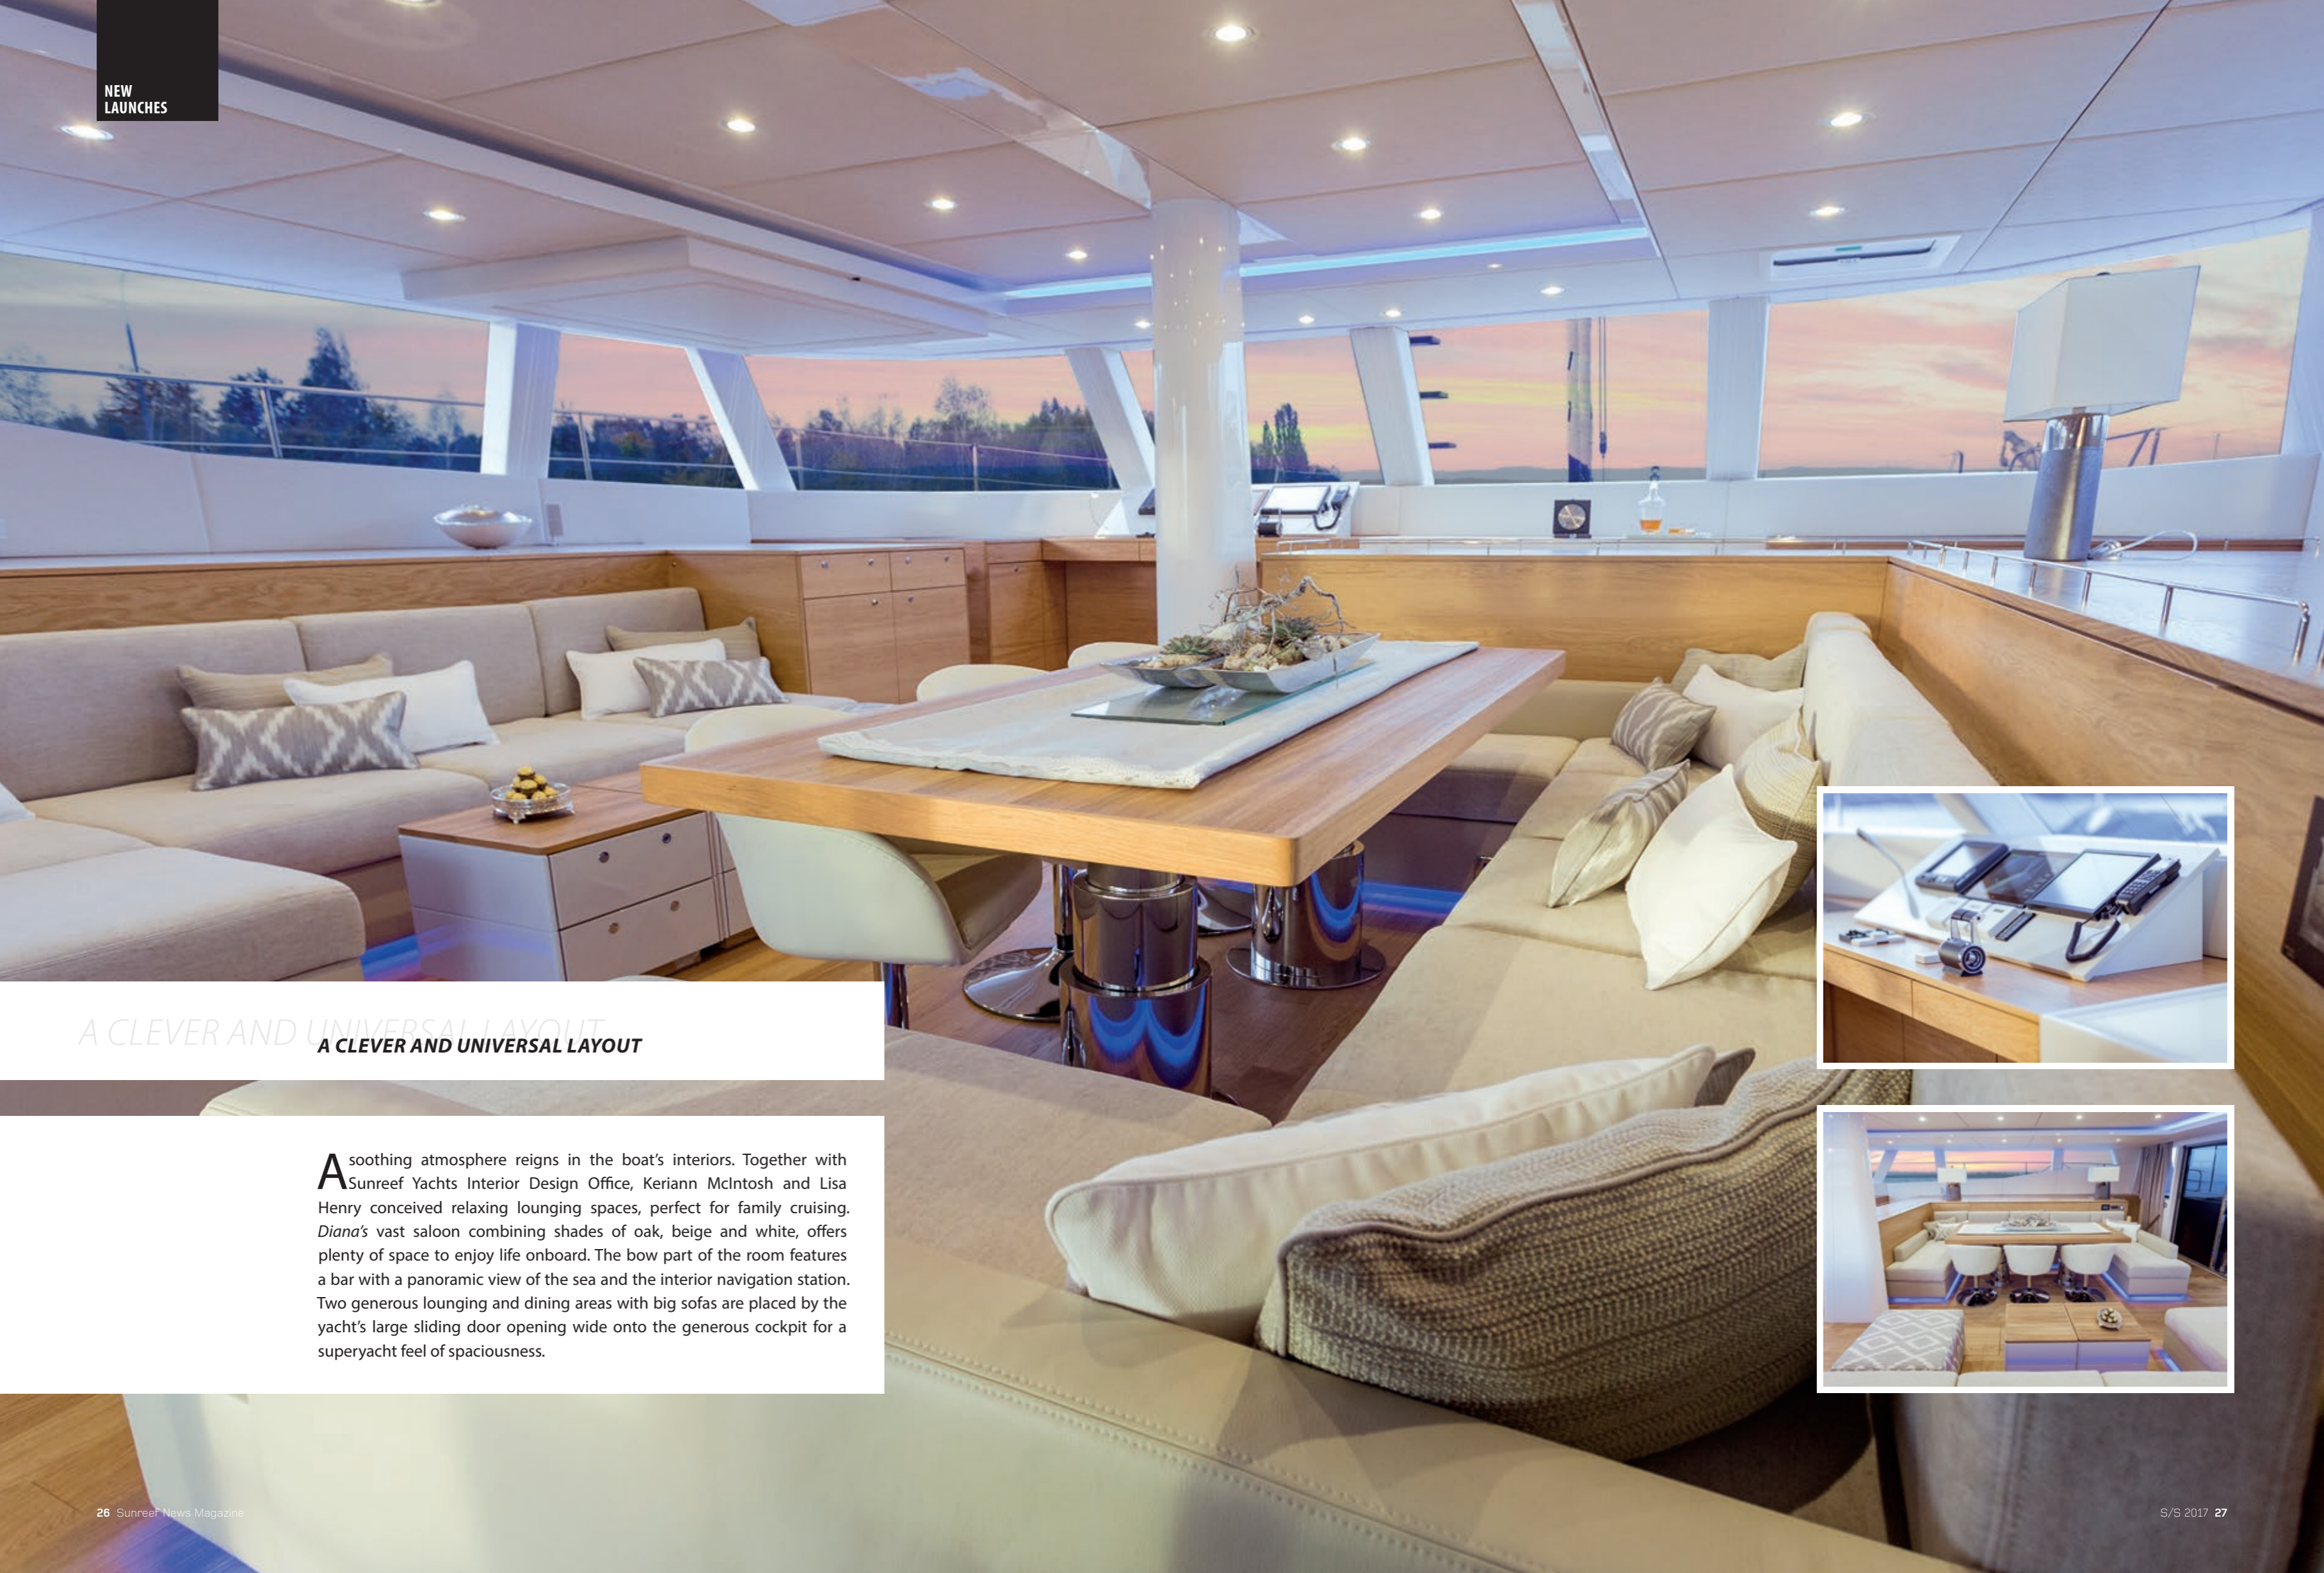

From the very beginning, the project had specific build requirements and a complex specification list. The extensive use of carbon fiber allowed not only to compensate for the weight of the yacht's long list of equipment (including two tenders and a Jacuzzi) but also increased Diana's performance. The yacht was given a carbon deck, flybridge, bulkheads and superstructure. As explains Piotr Czyż, Sunreef Yachts in-house Project Manager: “The use of carbon fiber was our way to adapt the Sunreef 74 to the Owner's navigation plans. The shipyard has significant experience in working with carbon – for instance, we produce our own carbon masts and have launched an 80ft carbon sailing catamaran – the Sunreef 80 Carbon Line Levante.”

BORN TO SAIL

The Artemis symbol on the yacht's sail represents Diana, the goddess of the hunt. This tells a lot about the boat's character. Equipped with state-of-the-art sailing gear, she is clearly the ambitious and adventurous type. Diana has everything she needs to conquer the world's oceans. Her rigging includes a carbon mast and an in-boom furling system. The main navigation station is equipped with touchscreens enabling automatic sail adjustments coupled with load sensors to prevent winch, hardware and rig overload. These solutions provide a redundant, easy and safe control of the sails and rig. The boat also features a large overlapping genoa for upwind optimized performance, a code 0 for reaching and a furling spinnaker for downwind performance. All sails can be easily controlled from the superior helm station, making the boat suited for single-handed operation. Adrien Jousset, the shipyard's Naval Architect, sheds some light on the first sea trials in the Baltic Sea: “We had the chance to test the boat in a wide range of wind and sea conditions. We had up to a couple of meters of waves coming from North East and up to 25 knots true wind in the first days. During all sea trials, the boat sailed an average speed of 9.5 knots half loaded. The large overlapping genoa is great giving nice power upwind. We reached 42° apparent at 11 knots under genoa with 15 knots true wind. With the code 0, we came up as close as 50° and reached 13 knots with 16-17 knots true wind. Diana is a fantastic worldwide cruiser and can withstand any kind of weather and sea state.”

A CLEVER AND UNIVERSAL LAYOUT
A CLEVER AND UNIVERSAL LAYOUT

A soothing atmosphere reigns in the boat's interiors. Together with Sunreef Yachts Interior Design Office, Keriann McIntosh and Lisa Henry conceived relaxing lounging spaces, perfect for family cruising. Diana's vast saloon combining shades of oak, beige and white, offers plenty of space to enjoy life onboard. The bow part of the room features a bar with a panoramic view of the sea and the interior navigation station. Two generous lounging and dining areas with big sofas are placed by the yacht's large sliding door opening wide onto the generous cockpit for a superyacht feel of spaciousness.

The fully equipped galley with abundant storage and a small crew mess was placed down in the aft part of the port hull. The same volume on starboard side is occupied by the yacht's comfortable crew quarters. Both the galley and crew cabin give easy access to the boat's large engine rooms through fireproof doors. Diana's layout comprises two identical mid-ship guest cabins, both featuring double beds, ample storage and spacious private bathrooms with a contemporary mosaic tile finishing. Two more equally-sized guest cabins are placed symmetrically in the bow part of each hull. They both feature large double beds and clever storage but also open onto the forepeaks fitted with single beds – a flexible and charter-friendly layout solution.

Cabin in the starboard hull

Diana's flybridge not only houses the yacht's helm but is also a prime lounging spot featuring a dining table adjustable in height, a rowing machine and a spectacular Jacuzzi. A wink from Artemis: a custom-built spear gun locker is also at hand as the Owner is a world record-holding Blue Water Hunter.

SAILING AWAY

The Owner and his family plan to begin their world cruise with Diana in 2017, starting in the Mediterranean and continuing on to the Caribbean and Pacific. Their intention is to take their time and "stop to smell the roses" with friends along the way. ■

DOUBLE DECK

THE AVANT-GARDE SAILING SUPERYACHT

SUNREEF YACHTS IS CURRENTLY WORKING ON ONE OF ITS MOST AMBITIOUS CRAFTS. A DOUBLE DECK CUSTOM-BUILT SAILING SUPERYACHT – THE SUNREEF 88 DOUBLE DECK.

The innovative Double Deck series was introduced in 2010 with the launch of the imposing 102ft Iphara – the world's very first double deck sailing catamaran and at the same time one of the biggest sailing luxury multihulls ever built. All yachts in the Double Deck range feature a mezzanine level inside the saloon and a spacious master stateroom with a panoramic view in the bow part of the main deck.

The Sunreef 88 Double Deck is a display of the shipyard's non-conformist attitude and a genuine example of an avant-garde sailing catamaran concept. She puts the emphasis on luxury, performance and privacy while offering over 300m² of living space. Her layout, interior design and technical features are entirely customized and adapted to her Owner's exact expectations. This unique catamaran is Sunreef Yachts' sixth superyacht construction.

CHASING A BIG DREAM REQUIRES A BIG BOAT

Having previously owned a 28m motor monohull, the Owner commissioned this sailing superyacht with Sunreef Yachts to be able to enjoy cruises around the whole world with friends and family. Putting safety and seaworthiness at the forefront, he started to look for the right boat concept – one that would ensure a stable navigation experience and let him extend the sailing season to a full year. This is how the idea of building the Sunreef 88 Double Deck emerged. A vision of a safe and fast boat with massive living spaces and a huge flybridge began to take shape.

Further to the bow is the entrance to the master suite using the yacht's full beam. The Owner's realm offers a spectacular panoramic sea view, features a king-size bed with a leather-finished headboard, a wardrobe, desk and an elevated reading spot. The wooden floors lend the interior a warm aspect and the overall décor with various shades of grey keeps the atmosphere discretely chic. The stairs to portside lead to the spacious bathroom with an immense walk-in shower. The space combines iron grey and beige quartz panels for a contemporary look.

The Sunreef 88 Double Deck's layout comprises three spacious VIP cabins with en suite bathrooms, all placed within the hulls. Each of these spacious retreats features a king-size bed, a large TV with a gaming console and a wardrobe. Every cabin and bathroom was given a distinct design and color theme chosen by the Owner in collaboration with the Sunreef Yachts Interior Design Office.

A FAMILY-FRIENDLY MONSTER

Everything about the Sunreef 88 Double Deck is big. The boat has an imposing presence. Her exterior design is dynamic and somewhat aggressive, yet she remains the most family-friendly yacht offering the best of comfort and safety. Her advanced composite structure conceals a smart and functional layout with luxurious accommodations for 8 guests and up to 5 crew.

The yacht's saloon is a vast relaxing area with floors entirely clad in Chambord Oak and a soothing light grey finish. The main lounging area with a generous sofa has a lofty feel thanks to the boat's raised superstructure. The custom-tailored mirrors placed on the back wall enhance the already voluminous aura of the yacht. With clever storage all around, a drop-down ceiling TV and a wine cooler placed at hand, the room offers all the comfort needed for lengthy family cruises. Placed amidships is the dining table for 8, neighboring the enclosed navigation station and skipper's office.

“The Sunreef 88 Double Deck is our sixth superyacht build. Upon the Owner's request we put much emphasis on both the performance and safety. Therefore, the boat's sailplan is devoted to fast cruising, whereas the layout is perfectly adapted to family use. The fact that the boat is big does not necessarily mean that she will be hard to handle and monitor – a custom domotic system is installed to control lights, stores, alarms, tank and temperature levels, batteries and electricity consumption.”

Francis Lapp, Sunreef Yachts Founder and President

Situated slightly down to starboard off the main deck is the yacht's galley. With ample storage and large countertops, the space is outfitted with a restaurant quality oven, freezers and fridges. A custom-made wine rack holding up to 100 bottles is placed below decks along with extra freezers. The bright and airy workspace was designed to be efficient and ensure the right conditions for impeccable service onboard. The boat's laundry and utility room is found to portside in the rear part of the hull.

SUNNING, DIVING, WINING AND DINING

Transition from the yacht's saloon to the cockpit is smooth. The exterior lounging space is vast, fitted with another big dining table, sunbeds, a fridge, an ice maker and an easily accessed day head to starboard. The cockpit is also an excellent spot for diving and all sorts of watersports. The yacht's 4.9m tender rests on the aft platform while two jet skis are stored in the passageways.

One of the characteristic features of the fully in-house built and designed Sunreef 88 Double Deck is her immense flybridge with a large table, a bar with a freezer, ice maker and barbecue. ■

EVERY LAUNCH IS A SPECIAL EDITION

CUSTOM-TAILORED YACHTS ALWAYS EXPRESS A SPECIFIC VISION. A HOME AWAY FROM HOME, A PARTY BOAT, A FISHING ENTHUSIAST'S FANTASY, A FAMILY-FRIENDLY CHARTER YACHT – IDEAS VARY FROM OWNER TO OWNER. AS WE TAKE A CLOSER LOOK AT THE CREATIVE PROCESS BEHIND SUNREEF YACHTS CUSTOMIZED CATAMARANS WE GET TO KNOW MORE ABOUT THE COMPANY'S DEFINITION OF LUXURY.

Businessman Francis Läpp started Sunreef Yachts in 2002 with a very clear idea in mind. He engaged in shipbuilding to change the philosophy of multihull design.

Having owned several leisure catamarans at the time he noticed a growing demand for spacious, family-friendly twin-hulled crafts with a superior level of production quality and a custom finish. His observations of the industry brought him to the conclusion that there were no yachts of this type on the market. He set up his business in Poland to soon launch the world's first 74ft luxury oceangoing sailing catamaran with a flybridge. Today, Sunreef Yachts is the global leading manufacturer and designer of individually tailored multihulls.

Sunreef 82 Double Deck

A DEFINITION OF LUXURY

True luxury is achieved through innovative designs, highest quality standards and the ability to respond to specific customer expectations.

From the very foundation of the shipyard, Sunreef Yachts has been setting the trends in the luxury multihull industry. Based in Gdansk, a city with long traditions in naval construction and excellent workforce, the company introduces new solutions to the yacht building world on a regular basis. The shipyard's innovations include the launch of the world's first double deck power catamaran with oceanic range (the 70 Sunreef Power Jambo), the first double deck sailing catamaran (the superyacht Sunreef 102 Ipharra), the world's biggest sloop-rigged catamaran (the superyacht Sunreef 114 Che) the first 60ft power catamaran with IPS Volvo propulsion (the 60 Sunreef Power Lilu), the first carbon catamaran-superyacht (the Sunreef 80 Carbon Line Levante), or the launch of the world's first catamaran-superyacht with a folding mast. At least two models are being added to the range every year by the shipyard's team of designers.

Sunreef Yachts production process

This creative mindset keeps Sunreef Yachts at the avant-garde of the catamaran world. The recently introduced Sunreef Supreme Range pushed the boundaries of the industry even further with the introduction of the world's first 68-footer with 300m² of living space and a superyacht garage.

Maintaining the highest level of quality is a matter of attitude and experience. Sunreef Yachts has built some of the biggest luxury catamarans in the world. The shipyard gives each catamaran its own individual touch depending on her Owner's character and specific needs. Composite, stainless steel, wood, carbon and upholstery works are all carried out in-house to ensure a quick and accurate response to every customer's requests.

Sunreef Supreme 68 Midori

Whenever a layout is conceived, various factors are taken into consideration. The Interior Design Team always takes the time to get to know the Owner and his/her navigation plans. The Owner's family plays a most significant role as the presence of children or elderly guests often requires special layout modifications. One of the recent examples is the Sunreef Supreme 68 Eagle Wings featuring a custom-made stairlift to facilitate cabin access to one of the Owners' family elders or the Sunreef 60 Loft Happy's gangway specifically adapted to electric tricycle use. When the layout of the 70 Sunreef Power Violetta was designed, priority was given to children. The yacht's master cabin connects directly with the children's realm – a space with ample storage for toys, opening onto the nanny's cabin and featuring twin beds convertible to a double when needed.

SHAKING HANDS WITH A FUTURE OWNER

The interior of a Sunreef Yachts catamaran always reflects her Owner's personality. Sunreef Yachts Interior Design Team gives each boat a unique layout and style influenced by the Owner's aesthetic preferences and navigation plans.

No two Sunreef Yachts are ever the same. Each custom project we work on is one of a kind. Our team's main source of inspiration are the Owners. We get to work with customers from all around the world. Their suggestions and ideas motivate us to push the limits and come up with a genuine custom design with every project. I think we can say that every Sunreef Yachts catamaran is a special edition. Our attitude is to be constantly open to fresh ideas and give the Owners the creative freedom they need. A challenging but very satisfying experience.

Joanna Szulc
Head of the Interior Design Department

The Owners' hobbies and leisure activities are an important source of ideas for Sunreef Yachts designers. This is how an upright piano found its way onboard the Sunreef 74 Lucy Z or the Sunreef Supreme 68 Eagle Wings, also featuring a state-of-the-art karaoke system. Being a passionate blue water hunter, the Owner of the Sunreef 74 Diana requested that a custom-built spear gun locker is installed on his yacht's flybridge right next to a rowing machine and a spectacular Jacuzzi. As the Owner of the 70 Sunreef Power Moondance likes to take the helm during lengthy Pacific cruises, his yacht's flybridge has been partly enclosed with a composite superstructure and fitted with an additional navigation station. The Owner of the Sunreef 74 Obsession puts much emphasis on fine cuisine, therefore his private chef was deeply involved in the yacht's galley design process.

Sunreef 74 Blue Deer

ALL UNIQUE

With every project, new designs emerge. Sunreef Yachts Owners pick from an infinite source of materials in an endless variety of colors, shapes and textures. The shipyard's craftsmen perform their work manually, taking all the time necessary to convey visions into reality.

This is why one yacht model may exist in so many versions. The Sunreef Supreme 68 Athena's cabin interiors are modern and light while the ones of the Sunreef Supreme 68 Midori are deliberately dark. The Sunreef 74 Lucy Z is clad in rosewood for a classic marine look, whereas the Sunreef 74 Diana's design is kept in a contemporary style. Versatile and creative, the Sunreef Yachts Design Team can adapt every model to the most specific requirements. This is why every launch is a special edition. ■

Lucy Z

Behind the scenes of creating a perfect meal

Premiered in 2016, Sunreef 74 Lucy Z is a stunning charter sailing catamaran dedicated to pampering the most fastidious guests of fine taste searching for new and stimulating sensory experiences. To achieve this goal, this remarkable yacht offers guests a unique opportunity to take a pause in a relaxing, refreshing, and refined traditional marine atmosphere.

With her sleek silhouette, custom-made interior design inspired by the traditional nautical style and three elegant staterooms providing comfortable accommodation for up to 7 guests, Lucy Z is one of the most attractive luxury charter yachts within her range. However, what makes her even more memorable is an admirable philosophy behind the outstanding cuisine served to charter guests. A very meticulous method of selecting the best ingredients for preparation of each dish ensures that every meal is a culinary masterpiece.

Dining table in the saloon on Lucy Z

The food served on Lucy Z is a blend of the classic European, Japanese and local cuisines based on the highest quality ingredients, including fresh seasonal fruit and vegetables, herbs, meat and fish. The wines served to the guests are also selected among the best local kinds. The food philosophy of Lucy Z is based on the belief that fresh regional products are the best for creating a perfect meal.

For this reason, every morning starts with the yacht's chef visiting nearby farmers' markets and shops in search of fresh seasonal fruit and vegetables. The fish menu is completed by oyster farms and local fishermen, whereas best regional farms supply Lucy Z with all items needed in the department of fresh meat, be it prime beef or a steady supply of lamb.

To enrich the menu offered on Lucy Z, the crew are always in search of excellent cheesemakers who supply the yacht with high quality dairy products, including goat cheese, young or cured cheeses with tastes ranging from traditional and classic to fresh and original. Moreover, the chef of Lucy Z uses various oils and fats required for the preparation of each dish specifically, be they vegetable, olive or sunflower oils, butter or cream.

Lucy Z's chef ensures that the menu is based on the ingredients that are currently in season. It is essential that all guests enjoy their meals which is why it is so important to provide the crew with the information regarding any specific requests or individual preferences, including allergies to different types of food.

The guests may rest assured that Lucy Z's chef will make it her personal responsibility to satisfy their highest expectations and make every meal a most enjoyable experience.

Dinner is served!

DINNERS ON LUCY Z ARE SERVED IN THE FOLLOWING STEPS:

- Guests are first served with an appetizer and a glass of one of Lucy Z's liqueurs. Upon request, they are served with a bottle of Champagne.
- The guests are seated at a spacious dining table, a wine is selected and the crew ensures that from that moment on, no wine glass is left empty. The hors d'oeuvres are served – two or three small portions designed to placate hunger, and allow the guests to enjoy the meal at a relaxed pace.
- Following the hors d'oeuvres comes the first course, acting as an introduction to the second (main) course, and allowing the guests to experience a wider range of culinary experiences.
- The main course normally consists of two kinds of meat or fish, accompanied by various vegetable side dishes.
- The dessert is typically a small, delicate, yet distinctive tasting summation to the entire meal, enjoyed with the last sip of wine and followed by fragrant herb teas or strong and refreshing coffee.

The essence of the entire culinary experience can be summed up as "mixed simplicity". Salads containing vegetables that were picked hours before being served, eggs that were gathered specifically for the meal, freshly caught fish, fruit coming directly from the tree to the kitchen and the combination of all of these ingredients create a wide spectrum of exotic, yet wholesome tastes. ■

WATER SPORTS & TOYS

IT IS ALL ABOUT BEING ON, IN OR UNDER WATER!

Water sports and activities are an inseparable part of an enjoyable charter experience. With that in mind, every luxury charter yacht offers a number of options of water activities suitable for all ages. Whether you are looking for an exciting underwater experience, a thrilling jet ski drive or a much more relaxing kayaking or paddle boarding session – you will always find something fun to do.

Sunreef 74 – 19th Hole – is one of the most popular sailing charter catamarans within her range and a great example of a charter yacht with a rich selection of water activities available for guests. Have a look at our selection of the most enjoyable water sports and toys which do not require any special skills and are very easy to learn or operate for any keen beginner.

KAYAKING

Kayaking is a perfect family activity which is as much fun for the kids as for the parents.

Paddling away while admiring picture-perfect views of the natural surrounding is both a fun and relaxing passtime.

INFLATABLES

Donuts, bananas, tubes – whichever kind of inflatable towable toys you are dealing with, they all have one thing in common – they are lots of fun! Bouncing over the waves, testing your hanging on skills and screaming with excitement is what the towable toys are all about.

FISHING

Catch of the day – sounds delicious! Making your own contribution to the actual ‘catching’ of your freshly-served dinner sounds a lot like an adventure. It takes patience, determination, strength and a bit of time to succeed in this undertaking, but in the end, it’s all worth it.

PADDLE BOARD

The laid-back image, commonly associated with this water activity, makes paddle boarding seem to be a perfect activity for ultimate relaxation. And that it is, once you learn how to keep your balance! But once you do, there is no better way to admire the sun rising or setting on a distant horizon. Paddle boards are increasingly popular among yoga enthusiasts who enjoy participating in ‘on water’ sessions.

SEABOB

Ever dreamt of chasing fish or hopping like a dolphin? If the answer is yes, seabob is a perfect water toy for you!

Not only does this underwater scooter allow you to move quickly enjoying the views and the speed, but it is also a great fun to operate. What is more, it is safe for kids due to a depth control option which prevents them from going too deep.
